House Resolution 1490

By: Representatives Scott of the 2nd, Knox of the 24th, Burkhalter of the 50th, Casas of the 103rd, Millar of the 79th, and others

A RESOLUTION

- 1 Recognizing and honoring the life of William F. Buckley, Jr.; and for other purposes.
- 2 WHEREAS, our nation has lost one of its greatest defenders in William F. Buckley, Jr.; and
- 3 WHEREAS, when conservatism was a lonely cause, he bravely raised the standard of liberty
- 4 and led the charge to renew the principles and values that are the foundation of our great
- 5 country; and
- 6 WHEREAS, the persuasiveness of his affirmation of conservatism hinged on his own tightly
- 7 argued case for a conservatism based on the national interest and a higher morality; and
- 8 WHEREAS, Mr. Buckley declared war on the liberal order, beginning with his blistering
- 9 assault on Yale as a traitorous den of atheistic collectivism immediately after he graduated,
- 10 with honors, from the university; and
- 11 WHEREAS, a man of tremendous vision and big ideas, he founded the National Review in
- 12 1955, at the age of 29, and through its pages and other endeavors, as a lecturer, commentator,
- debater, syndicated newspaper columnist, author of 55 books ranging from sailing odysseys
- 14 to spy novels to celebrations of his own dashing daily life, host of the television show
- 15 "Firing Line" from 1966 until 1999, he inspired many and advanced an intellectual rigor that
- 16 transformed American politics; and
- 17 WHEREAS, to his great delight, Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., the historian, termed him "the
- 18 scourge of liberalism"; and
- 19 WHEREAS, he inspired and incited three generations of conservatives, and he retained his
- 20 intellectual and literary vitality to the end; even in his final years he was capable of the
- 21 arresting formulation and the unpredictable insight; and

08 LC 95 0584

1 WHEREAS, Mr. Buckley served his country honorably in the U.S. Army during World War

- 2 II and in the Central Intelligence Agency in the early 1950's; and
- 3 WHEREAS, before he was a conservative, he was devoted to his family and his church and
- 4 is survived by his son, Christopher; and
- 5 WHEREAS, this singular gentleman was a person of magnanimous strengths with an
- 6 unimpeachable reputation for integrity, intelligence, fairness, and kindness.
- 7 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES that
- 8 the members of this body recognize and honor the life of William F. Buckley, Jr., the father
- 9 of modern conservatism.
